

FOR CRIMINAL ASSAULT

Campbell Tried for Takin' Liberties With Little Girls.

THE DEFENDANT'S STORY

JURY FINDS HIM GUILTY OF SIMPLE ASSAULT.

Mrs. Affleck Says Her Husband Is an Idle, Drunken Profligate, and She Wants a Divorce—Sutton and Perkins Plead Guilty to Assaulting Theodore Cleghorn—Enon W. F. James and Joseph Erickson Give $1,500 Bonds—Court Cullings.

Frank Campbell was yesterday put on trial before Judge Cherry on information charging him with committing a criminal assault upon Josephine Carney, a 10-year-old girl, at Liberty park on May 11 last. Assistant County Attorney Graham P. Putnam prosecuted and Attorney J. M. Hamilton defended the accused.

The allegations went to show that Campbell, who is a man of middle age, met Josephine Carney and her sister and some other little girls and took them to Liberty park, where it was charged he criminally assaulted the younger girl, Josephine, for which he was placed under arrest by Police Officer Heath whose beat is in Liberty park.

J. E. Main, Orson West and Orson Heath testified to seeing the girls with Campbell and the actions of the latter were suspicious.

Clara Carney, the older sister of Josephine, testified and tearfully gave her testimony. She said she was 12 years of age and had known the defendant for some months. She met him at the Salvation army headquarters and he was very kind to her. She said she did not like him, but he would not let her go. He would not let her go to school and he would not let her go to church. He would not let her go to any place where she could see her friends. He would not let her go to any place where she could see her friends.

Josephine Carney, gave evidence similar to that of her sister and added that while they were sitting on the grass defendant kissed her.

CAMPBELL TESTIFIES.

The defendant took the stand and testified in his own behalf that he saw the girls going down towards Liberty park and walked down with them. He played ball with them and they seemed to be enjoying themselves very much. At the park the girls and the defendant used the swings for perhaps half an hour and then they went to the lake and the witness went to the lake in a boat and sat down on the grass near the old mill. Neither of the children sat on witness' lap at that time. He carried Josephine on his back and she was crying. When he went to pick her up she was crying and he took her to the water and she was crying. He took her to the water and she was crying. He took her to the water and she was crying.

The case reached the jury about 4 o'clock in the afternoon and a verdict of guilty of simple assault was returned.

SUIT FOR DIVORCE.

Mrs. Affleck Says Her Husband Is an Idle, Drunken Profligate.

Elizabeth Mary Ann Affleck was entered suit for divorce from Robert Affleck, alleging that the marriage took place on Feb. 12, 1889, in this city; that the defendant has been guilty of habitual drunkenness for more than a year, and has, because of his intemperance and profligacy, failed and neglected to provide his family with the common necessities of life.

Theodore Cleghorn's Assaults.

Charles Sutton, John Perkins and William Thomas were put forward in Justice Stewart's court yesterday on trial on the charge of assault and battery, committed on the person of Theodore Cleghorn, under circumstances already fully reported in The Herald. The charge against Thomas was dismissed and the other two defendants pleaded guilty and were fined the amount of the costs of the action.

They Gave Bonds.

W. E. James and Joseph Erickson, charged by E. E. Sapp with assault with a deadly weapon in the fracas in Big Cottonwood on Sunday, went before Justice Sommer yesterday and gave bonds in the sum of $1,500 each for their appearance in court. They were expected, had a host of friends and good citizens anxious to go on to Salt Lake, which was signed by O. J. Salisbury, Henry W. Lawrence, Josiah Barnett and Harry Woodman. Mr. Erickson also had plenty of relatives, and his bond was signed by Josiah Barnett and Henry W. Lawrence.

Foreclosure Suit.

Leon R. Goldberg, Gertrude Goldberg and M. Ruff, administrators of the estate of Solomon Jacobson, deceased, vs. Nathan Tanner, Jr., Margaret G. Tanner, James S. Caldwell, Harry & Tracy, John E. Dooley, administrators of the estate of Morris Goldberg, and ten non-residents of the United States, have entered suit in the United States district court to foreclose note and mortgage for $7,500, dated June 2, 1892, signed by Nathan and Margaret Tanner, payable in two years to Morris Goldberg, and for amount due.

Court Cullings.

Judge Cherry will make a culling of civil jury cases on Friday next. Attorney C. J. Pence and J. H. Murphy have taken an elegant suite of offices in the Eagle block, which they have furnished in good style, and where they will be glad to see their clients and friends.

WALTER L. MAIN CIRCUS

TWO FINE PERFORMANCES GIVEN YESTERDAY.

The Tent Crowded Last Night, Notwithstanding the Shower—Managerie Features—A Well Conducted Show and One That Pleased Everybody.

The Walter L. Main circus opened a two-days' engagement at Pioneer square yesterday afternoon and gave a most creditable exhibition. The train of 28 cars arrived here from the east over the Rio Grande Western early in the morning and the excellent management of Mr. Main, who is said to be the youngest showman in the country, was apparent in the fact that everything was practically in readiness in a few hours after the arrival. There was a large parade about 10 o'clock and the streets along the line of march were crowded. Performances were given yesterday afternoon and evening and the circus was well received.

The attendance yesterday afternoon was large and it was still larger in the evening, notwithstanding the fact that the weather was very unfavorable. There was a shower during the afternoon and quite a heavy rain in the evening, but notwithstanding this the circus was well received.

The circus was particularly interesting in the evening, the usual number of wild animals, including a large herd of elephants and camels, and a fine specimen of the bison, were exhibited.

SIX DOLLAR LIGHTS

Council Confirms the Contract With the Pioneer Company.

SOME OPPOSITION SHOWN

IT WAS NOT AS TO THE FIGURES, HOWEVER.

Mayor's Veto of the Sprinkling Contract Laid Over For One Week—The Council Puts in Four Hours in Doing Very Little—Resume of the Business Done—Buckle Says the Street Supervisor is in His Dotage and Should be Removed—O'Meara Wants the Cabs and Vans Removed From the Public Streets—Other Business.

For four long and weary hours the city council was in session last evening, doing what any other body on earth would have required 45 minutes to transact. The contract for lighting with the Pioneer Electric company was adopted after 20 minutes of debate. The veto of the mayor of the Health sprinkling contract consumed a half hour. The balance of the time was taken up in the discussion of trivial matters. It seemed as if those who wanted to talk would never cease. Arguments which had no connection with the subject at hand were used and when the talkers grew weary of well doing the president would call some tongue-tied member to the chair and keep the ball rolling until the other side had got his second wind and wanted to resume. Here in all there was to make a fuss about.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The following petitions and other documents were read and referred, or acted upon as indicated.

The Brighton Memorial association filed an acceptance of the grant of a site for the monument to the memory of the pioneers, which was read and filed.

B. B. Quinn, assessor, submitted the aggregate valuation of all taxable property in the city at $7,500,000, which was referred to the finance committee.

After announcing that it had obtained the consent of the property owners, the pioneer jubilee committee asked permission to erect tribunes on State street, between Third and Fourth streets, which was referred to the committee on streets.

John P. Heath filed an amendment to his bid for sprinkling, offering to do the work for $10,000, which was referred to the committee on streets.

G. H. Backman et al. requested that the flushing hydrant in Pollard court be replaced, which was referred to the water works committee.

HACKMEN PROTEST.

John Farrington and many other hack drivers petitioned that the city should be required to enforce the ordinance concerning the hanging of licenses in a frame outside vehicles and requested that so far as it related to cabs and carriages, on performance of the petition was referred to the committee on streets.

Frederick Heath and J. H. Walker offered to dedicate five blocks on South Main to the city providing the corporation would cover same with shade, light same and keep it sprinkled and keep it up to the city. The city expended $10,000 already on this street. The matter was referred to the street committee.

LAI D OVER ONE WEEK.

The veto of the mayor on the sprinkling contract of John J. Heath was next considered. This veto was published in The Herald last Sunday and holds in the main that to approve this contract would be to violate the contract with J. H. Griffin.

Mr. Lloyd was the first speaker and alleged that he and the mayor had vetoed to the parking of the ways. The veto was in favor of extravagance and against the people who pony up the taxes. The speaker then debated the legal phases of the situation and closed by declaring the health ordinance a money-saving device. He was against the veto.

Mr. Dale didn't lament over the fact that the mayor was with him, although the mayor was against him. He said that the mayor was with him, although the mayor was against him. He said that the mayor was with him, although the mayor was against him.
